Dr. Susan S. Collano, CESO V
Division Schools Superintendent
Dept. of Education Naga City
Camarines Sur

Dear Dr. Collano,

Warm greetings from Scholastic!

We would like to invite you, your Reading & Math Education Program Supervisors, and your head librarian to our upcoming virtual education conference entitled Thriving in the 21st Century, Gearing Up for the Next: Teaching Critical Skills and Peace Competencies through Literacy and Math to Future Ready Today's Children.

The conference will be in Zoom on October 17th, 8:30 am to 12 pm.

Below is the poster-invite you may share with your team. It has a QR code that leads to the registration. You may also register through this link: <https://forms.office.com/r/cTA4N9gHHM> Slots are limited, so we encourage you to register early.

Both our guest resource persons from Scholastic Education International have rich experience in curriculum design and teacher training.

- Ms. Kelly Lim was a founding headmaster of a third campus of a Singapore International school in Thailand and an Academic Director of a newly set-up international School in Singapore. She has close to 25 years of teaching experience both in Singapore government primary schools and international schools.
Kelly holds a Masters in Mathematics Education from The Institute of Education, London, a degree in mathematics from the National University of Singapore (B. Sc.), and a Post-Graduate Diploma from The National Institute of Education in Singapore (PGDE). She is passionate in bringing equity in mathematics education to underserved communities.
- Ms. Payal Malhotra is a microbiologist by training and a teacher and editor by choice. Payal works with educators and students to ideate and create curriculum strategies and products that help make learning a rewarding experience. At Scholastic International, she shapes the product vision, ensuring it aligns with classroom needs. She conceptualized the education publishing for Scholastic in India and has successfully brought out and implemented school programs that incorporate global best practices while remaining culturally and contextually appropriate. For the last decade, Payal has trained and mentored hundreds of teachers and leadership teams. She enjoys bringing the voice of the teacher into every aspect of the product development, management, and support process. She believes that literacy is the foundation of learning, and not only have books shape her future, but also help her find wonder in the world.
