"Exceeded my expectations. I will take away lessons learnt in both my personal and professional life." Victoria Low, Ofgem

"I enjoyed the day. I learned about structure of submissions and briefings, what to do and, possibly more important, what not to do."

I was particularly interested in oral briefings and the exercise on this was useful as the range of examples highlighted areas for improvement. I also thought that it was useful being in an environment where other participants were from different organisations. I will be recommending it to colleagues." Naomi Walker,

"Friendly, professional and engaging. Very relevant content, will be great for someone new to this." Colin Maddock, DVSA

The course was engaging, well thought out and provided useful insight. The trainer was excellent at keeping the participants alert and everyone kept their cameras on throughout. The subject matter expanded my knowledge and I felt that I had learned more about the specifics of submissions and briefings, especially in the UK gov context. Advanced Propulsion Centre UK
